The Golden Skeleton

Once upon a time there lived a king and a princess. Princess Boneanna was born without her mother who died giving birth to her. The only thing she had were portraits of her mother. Boneanna's father said to her, "You are just like your mother her bones weren't easy to miss". Boneanna became very upset.

"Today is my birthday," shrieked Boneanna. Then she thought and said, "My mother also died today." Everyone bought her presents but nothing seemed to cheer her up. Her father said, "Now go upstairs and play and chef will make you a surprise." So Boneanna did. She heard "Clink clink!" A strange man was at the window. She shrieked, "FIRE." Everyone ran to her. The king had the man executed and Boneanna had her own palace and staff.

8 years later

Boneanna woke and said, "Oh great another day in this dump," said she, then she added, "Woo hoo it's my birthday." Boneanna finished her food and found a clavicle at the end of her bed, (Dear reader this is a collar bone), there was also a pair of lungs on the bedside cabinet and she then noticed a pelvis and under bones next to her wardrobe. She kept it secret all through the day, however, she felt scared.

Night had struck. Boneanna wanted the toilet but as she reached the door she said, "What is happening to me!" She had stood on a brain, tibia and a whole body full of skin.

Suddenly she thought she had been cursed. That night she never slept a wink, which means here never slept. In the morning her food arrived and her chef said, "Are you not tired? I knew you were up late because you left the food phone unhooked." Boneanna said, "May I be alone?" So he left. Boneanna pushed her breakfast away. "Hmm," she thought. It was all becoming clear. It was true - the legend.

She curled herself into a ball and hoped that she would die. She realised that she couldn't take any more of it. Why was this only happening to her? Take a long guess.

Legend says that every 23 years bones appear and when the person they appear to has all the bones they will fall in love with the person. This is okay if the person who appears is nice, but sometimes it can go bad, really bad...if the person is good they will stay until they die.

"Seven O'clock" Boneanna said. Chef came in with her breakfast and said "I am going in to town. Are you up for it?"

She got no answer "Ok I know when I'm not wanted."

BANG! Went the door, and the rest of the bones appeared and she finished her food and started to put it together. Boneanna looked worried all the thoughts and questions going through mind, "Is it good or is it bad".

Finally Boneanna had finished. She hid behind her luscious pink and gold, four coaster bed. She looked under the bed and heard a ROAR! She shivered. The curse had gone bad really bad...

The bad person carried Boneanna to the stairs. The bad person balanced her on a step and said "Stay there". He took too long that Boneanna fell down the stairs "BANG". She broke her leg but the doctor also realised that she had a broken heart. She became all better and by then the curse was gone.

23 Yrs later

Boneanna woke and saw all the bones that she had seen 23 years ago and once again put them together but this time she hid behind a curtain. "Hello is anybody here I mean no harm" a voice called. Right now she was feeling the same way she did 23 years ago. Though she knew she had to be strong and said "yes I am here". She stepped from behind the curtain. When she seen how hansom and huncky (Dear reader huncky means looking good). As soon as they seen each other she fainted. The only way to receive some one is through the kiss of life and this is his opportunity to kiss the girl he loves. So he did and there was a shying and a fairy god mother marriage person appeared and said "since you just kissed your are now married just to let you know your Mr and Mrs Bonney
